

PRIME Business Intelligence

Making data work for you

Interpreting data into useful and actionable business intelligence is not only complicated but requires a large time investment. PRIME Business Intelligence is a powerful tool that uses sophisticated reporting techniques, to harness the data and information held within the One database and other systems into valuable and actionable information. Providing you with timely and accurate analysis at the click of a button, you can improve outcomes.

PRIME can be used to help provide an early indication of trends such as which children are most vulnerable, which are likely to become NEET and which children are most likely to offend. This information allows you to effectively target resources to the right people in your community.

Key Benefits

- Share information: harnesses the data held in One into valuable business intelligence allowing you to report from multiple systems.
- Target intervention: identify the most vulnerable children and families.
- Improve outcomes: make a difference to lives by delivering true business intelligence to decision makers.
- Reduce costs: simplify business intelligence by using sophisticated reporting techniques allowing you to focus resources where they are needed most.
